the results

The installed solar shading systems successfully delivered on performance, aesthetics, and occupant comfort. The luxury multi-family unit benefits from high light filtration, energy efficiency, and a refined, low-profile installation that complements the unit's architectural millwork. The white 1% basketweave solar screen fabric balances privacy with framed views of the city.

The shared amenity and event space at the Sky Terrace level now offers a more comfortable user experience in an exposed glass environment. The white 3% basketweave solar screen fabric offers solar protection while preserving the dramatic views of the iconic Washington DC landmarks.
